

Gallagher&Kennedy

CONSTRUCTION

Gallagher & Kennedy's team of construction attorneys offers substantial industry knowledge and experience, having added value to projects of all sizes, complexities and durations. Legal issues faced by participants in the construction industry are diverse and highly complex.

With a construction practice that encompasses litigation, transactions, licensing and enforcement, and public bidding and procurement, we represent owners, developers, contractors, sub-contractors, suppliers and design professionals in legal matters from project inception through completion.

Our expertise includes public and private construction projects, as well as projects in the residential and commercial construction sectors.

PRACTICE AREAS

- Construction Licensing and Enforcement
- Construction Litigation
- Construction Public Bidding and Procurement
- Construction Transactions