INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Gallagher & Kennedy's intellectual property practice group assists clients with meeting the demands of today's fast-paced, global marketplace. Our attorneys help manage strategic decision-making regarding intellectual property portfolios and complex litigation to maximize the client's technologies. We offer a full range of counseling, licensing and litigation representation in all aspects of intellectual property law, including matters involving patents, trademarks, copyrights and trade secrets.

Our lawyers understand the many demands placed upon companies seeking to protect their critical assets. The firm's department works closely with others within the firm to provide maximized representation, assisting with business transactions, intellectual property matters with tax implications, acquisition of intellectual property, due diligence and counseling on related matters.

Our attorneys have substantial experience in patents, trademarks, copyrights, privacy, trade secrets, unfair competition, Internet law, licensing and technology matters. Our lawyers are technically trained, with the ability to enforce and protect technology in the fields of chemistry, biology, semiconductors, medical devices, electrical, mechanical and computer engineering, computer hardware and computer software.

Gallagher & Kennedy attorneys are skilled in rendering sophisticated advice to a broad range of clients, from Fortune 500 companies to start-up businesses. Our attorneys regularly make presentations at seminars, publish articles and lecture on topics concerning emerging issues in intellectual property law.
