

Gallagher&Kennedy

LITIGATION

The Gallagher & Kennedy litigation practice group has significant experience with virtually all problem areas typically encountered in the business world. We provide aggressive advocacy, excellent service and cost-effective case management. Our litigators appear in federal and state courts at all levels, including the United States Supreme Court, and routinely handle complex matters encompassing all substantive areas of law.

Gallagher & Kennedy's reputation as a firm with exceptional trial attorneys attracts clients involved in litigation matters ranging from construction and product liability suits to government fraud and professional malpractice claims. Our expert litigators adeptly advise clients in the areas of risk management, litigation avoidance and alternative dispute resolution.
