

LITIGATION

CLASS ACTIONS

Gallagher & Kennedy has extensive experience in defending companies facing class action and mass action suits in both state and federal courts in Arizona and across the country. Successful results in class action suits often turn on a mix of the complex class action procedures and the intricacies of the substantive area of law at issue. Our class action attorneys have extensive knowledge of the strategies and complexities of the procedures in class action suits and apply that knowledge while drawing upon the full array of legal expertise available within the firm. We emphasize early strategic planning and work in the most efficient manner to obtain the best outcome for our clients.

We have litigated matters for our clients in state and nationwide class action proceedings for claims involving:

- Antitrust
- Unfair competition
- Breach of warranty or contract
- Violation of consumer protection and consumer fraud laws
- Insurance
- Racketeering

Our substantial experience as counsel in class and mass actions in a variety of contexts and claims enables us to advise our clients in both litigation and business strategies to minimize exposure and to maximize the likelihood of success for a given dispute.