

COMMERCIAL LITIGATION

Gallagher & Kennedy litigators have extensive experience handling all types of commercial disputes and lawsuits. In all litigation matters, Gallagher & Kennedy attorneys keep our clients involved in litigation decisions to ensure the way forward is compatible with their business goals.

We have extensive experience and success in litigating matters involving:

- Complex contract disputes
- Interference with business activities
- Professional relations and obligations among business partners, shareholders, officers, and directors
- Complex real estate transactions
- Anti-competitive conduct and antitrust laws
- Tortious business activities
- Commercial construction and home-building disputes
- Product liability
- Environmental issues
- Professional malpractice
- Securities
- Financial fraud
- Injunctive relief
- Class Actions

Since even the best run businesses may face litigation, clients rely on Gallagher & Kennedy's skillful, aggressive advocacy, service and cost-effective case management. Ever mindful of the adverse impacts and risks of litigation, we work with our clients to find win-win, creative business solutions aimed at avoiding litigation. When necessary, however, our lawyers have extensive courtroom experience in the state and federal trial and appellate courts, and before arbitration panels.

Gallagher & Kennedy has grown to become Arizona's sixth largest law firm, evolving from a small nucleus of trial lawyers in the early days. Today, the firm is a full service business law firm, but its strong and abiding commitment to maintaining excellence within the litigation group remains steadfast. Our track record of success, stellar reputation within the legal community and longstanding client relationships affirm this commitment to excellence.
