

PUBLIC BIDDING & PROCUREMENT

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

In collaboration with our public bidding & procurement team, our intellectual property lawyers work with you to ensure that your intellectual property is adequately and appropriately protected – both in preparation for a bid or proposal, and in the development of goods or services for the government.

Companies must be cognizant of the special rules governing public bodies with respect to public records and, at the same time, present the best, most comprehensive information to the government. Our experienced lawyers help you achieve the appropriate balance.
