NATIVE AMERICAN ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

Gallagher & Kennedy's Native American litigation group has been involved in some of the most significant litigation in Arizona. Our attorneys are highly skilled in efficiently and effectively accomplishing our tribal client's objectives both in and out of the courtroom. Specifically, our firm draws upon the extensive experience of its attorneys to help tribal clients with:

- Representation of legal interests in tribal, state and federal courts
- Advancement of tribal interests in legislative, judicial and administrative proceedings
- Consultation on and protection of tribal sovereign immunity
- Advice in the areas of risk management, litigation avoidance and alternative dispute resolution
