

CONDEMNATION & VALUATION

REAL ESTATE VALUATION

Attorneys who are familiar with the legal and practical aspects of real estate valuation are frequently consulted for issues regarding the value of property. These issues can arise in a variety of legal settings and our attorneys have the experience and know-how to help clients understand both the relevant valuation concepts and the evidentiary hurdles to proving value. We have a wealth of experience representing clients in litigating and defending claims that focus on the value of property.

Our valuation attorneys work independently or in collaboration with other practice groups to provide the best representation in real estate valuation matters. Some of the most common cases that require an attorney experienced in real estate valuation are:

- Disputes between buyers and sellers
- Title defects and title insurance claims
- Probate
- Bankruptcy
- Partnership or corporate dissolutions